BAD CHECK ARTIST MAKES BIG HAUL

One Maurice McCall Is Alleged to Have Victimized Half Dozen Merchants Here to the Tune of $300 Cash

ALSO STEALS AUTOMOBILE

McCall Formerly Was a Resident And Gave Checks, It Is Said, Bearing the Signature of a Local Painting Firm, Which Prove Fictitious

On the face of the "returns" from time to time, it is apparent that Charleroi business men and business men of the valley will continue to enact the role of the "good Samaritan," and "fall" for the machinations and wiles of the bad check artist; consequently, the artist of this persuasion, finding this field honeycombed with good luck, continues to ply his nefarious designs with a fortune which, if deployed in honorable ways, would gain for him a competence in a short time. The latest bad check man to successfully ply his trade here is one Maurice McCall, aged about 30, who, on last Friday and Saturday, victimized a half dozen local merchants and business men for a sum total of about $300—two pretty fair days' work.

McCall is described as a short man, weighing in the neighborhood of 140 pounds. He was not known to the business men of the borough whom he victimized. He came here seeking a job as a painter, and sought admission to the local Painters' union. On the strength of this he forged checks, it is alleged, on a Charleroi painting firm, and tendering a check ostensibly signed by them, for his "purchases;" he received the goods and customary change without question. The checks were on a local bank, and were by the attaches of the institution pronounced fictitious.

McCall is a married man, who has a wife and three children living in Belle Vernon. Chief of Police James A. Murphy visited Belle Vernon last night, and discovered that McCall was successful in passing spurious checks there. It is further alleged that McCall, who made his getaway in an automobile, stole the car from the A. C. Thomas garage, located in McKean avenue.

The local police are working on the case, and a description of the forger and the machine stolen has been broadcasted, and the hope is entertained that McCall's apprehension is only a matter of a short time.

Recluse Dies In The Hospital Early Yesterday

School children looking into the window of the one-story frame house owned and occupied solely by John Kesper, aged about 55 years, of Allenport, were of the opinion that the man was dead when they saw him lying on the floor. Support was lent to this view through virtue of the fact that Kesper had not been seen for several days. Deputy Coroner Michael T. Crowley was notified, and on arriving at the home of the pre- and going to his side, discovered that Kesper was still breathing. Summoning the Charleroi ambulance, Mr. Crowley had the man removed to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where he lived about five hours, dying yesterday morning at 12:15 o'clock.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Crowley, and by him prepared for burial. Deceased has no known relatives in this country. He is a native of Lithuania, and according to the report, was a shoe-maker, but had not been working at his trade or at any kind of labor for some time. He had lived at Allenport for a period of about 18 years, was well known there and known to a number of people in Charlerqi.

It is the opinion of Mr. Crowley that the man's passing was caused by uraemia, but it will require a coroner's inquest to determine, the inquest to be held some time in the near future.

CHESS PARK IS OPEN TO PUBLIC

Chess Park, Monongahela, has been opened to the public for inspection although considerable work remains to be done on the lawns.

The city authorities of Monongahela have found it necessary to protest against the practice of children who play around the fountain in the park. Waste matter and old newspapers have been thrown into the pool, while workmen have found it necessary to open the pipes which have been clogged by juveniles stuffing wood and paper into the openings.

From reports received, it is probable that the practice of children riding "skooters" and wagons in the park will be stopped, owing to damage that has already been done to the shrubbery which lines the walks.

Chess Park, from comment heard from those who have visited it, will soon be one of the beauty spots in the city of Monongahela. We believe that the tract of ground was bought by the city from heirs of an estate and at a very reasonable price.

The gentlemen of the local society are planning to show their sisters of the organization mentioned, which is inclusive of their wives, their real sisters, cousins, and sweethearts, as the case may be, one of the social amenities of their lives.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AT CHARLEROI TURN VEREIN

The Charleroi Turn Verein again opens its doors to the public for various courses in Physical Education. It is no longer necessary to speak of the beneficial value of Physical Education. Philosophers, Scientists and Theologians all agree that a well-regulated system of physical exercises are of untold value in the lives of our young people. Our educators, too, have come to realize this fact, and as a result, Physical Education has become a distinctive department in every educational system all over this country. In our own state of Pennsylvania, from our High Schools down to the remotest little school in the mountains, Physical education is a part of the daily program. But it should not be forgotten that the Turn Verein schools were among the forerunners in bringing about these desired conditions. In the old days before Physical Education was taken seriously, it was not uncommon to see long processions of school chil-

MRS. T. F. LINDSAY IS NEW LEADER

Mrs. T. R. Eagye, vice president, presided at the regular September meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society held at the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, in the absence of the president, Mrs. T. Arrangements were made for the sending of delegates to the district convention to be held at McDonald and also to the annual Pittsburgh conference to be held at Dormont. The delegates will be elected at a later meeting of the society. Luncheon was served in closing by the hostesses, Mrs. Eaton, chairlady, Mrs. Eagye, Mrs. Stanley Lutes, Mrs. A. J. # Machine Bearing Ohio License Yields Large Amount Grain Alcohol

MINIONS ARE WORKING ON REGISTER THEFT

Chief of Police James A. Murphy, in conjunction with a sleuth from the Burns Detective agency, is working on the case of the mysterious disappearance of the cash register from the automobile establishment of Guy Woodward, from his garage in McKean avenue. The register was stolen presumably, about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. It is not known how much money it contained.

Chief Murphy and the Burns Agency detective arrested a colored man, said to have been at one time in employ of Guy Woodward; but they could not connect him with the theft, and he was liberated yesterday afternoon.

The officers of the law, however are making inflexible examination, and believe they will apprehend the party guilty of the theft.

Sixty-seven and half gallons of alcohol were found in an automobile stopped by Sergeant E. T. Cohee of the state police, on the National pike, near Claysville, yesterday afternoon, the occupants of the car giving their names as Worth Boone, aged 34, of Cincinnati, and Miss Cora Gay, aged 26, of Cincinnati.

They were taken to the county jail and will be arraigned before Alderman J. F. Carmichael of Washington for a hearing this morning.

The alcohol was in various kinds of containers. The automobile was a 1924 Buick sport model. In searching the car, Sergeant Cohee found New York license plates in addition to the Ohio plates on the machine.

MINOR REPAIRS DELAYS FLYERS

Lieut. Smith, commanding the flight, arrived here late yesterday with a support bar missing and will not attempt to resume the flight until it has been replaced.

Smith and his flying mate, Lieut. Nelson, reached here at 4:40 p. m., yesterday, after flying from Hawkes Bay, New Foundland, in six hours and 30 minutes. Weather conditions were generally favorable all along the route.

PALACE THEATRE OFFERS SPLENDID VAUDEVILLE

Tonight, Friday and Saturday, another exceedingly well balanced bit of Vaudeville direct from the Harris Theatre, Pittsburgh, has been booked for presentation at the Palace Theatre. Singing, dancing, music and good wholesome comedy will predominate. The feature photo-drama, "THE SPIDER AND THE ROSE," is another great screen triumph, with ten distinct screen stars, headed by the popular favorite, Alice Lake.

The attraction for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be the ever popular Hoot Gibson, in the greatest picture of his career, "THE SAWDUST TRAIL." This production will be run with the usual vaudeville attraction, and in order to give everyone an opportunity of seeing this premier attraction, Manager Harry Barnhart has arranged for a special matinee Wednesday at 2 o'clock sharp. 77t1*

PLEA OF INSANITY SINCE THE HEARING STARTED, IF

Chicago, Sept. 4.—It has been definitely decided by attorneys for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb to enter pleas that the two slayers of Robert Franks have become insane since their murder hearing started, should Chief Justice John R. Caverly sentence them to hang.

This final decision, revealed today to the United Press, is the "ace" card which Clarence Darrow, "old lion of the defense," is ready to play in a last effort to save the lives of his two young clients.

Under the Illinois law, Justice Caverly would be required to call a jury to decide whether Nathan and Richard have become insane. All the evidence presented at the judicial hearing—and much more—would then be heard by the jury.

Should Justice Caverly sentence the boys to the penitentiary instead of hanging, the defense will be satisfied and no effort to set aside the sentences will be made, Darrow stated.

In resorting to the plea that Nathand and Richard are legally insane, the defense has a half dozen alienists prepared to take the stand and testify that the mental condition of the two murderers is far more serious than indicated by the four defense alienists used in the judicial hearing.

More than a dozen medical experts were retained originally by the defense. The four who testified were of the opinion that both boys were "mentally diseased," but not utterly insane. Their testimony was used in the judicial hearing because no plea of insanity was made. In the judicial hearing the defense sought only to show a "certain degree of rehponsibility," which it argued should influence the judge toward a sentence less than death.

Justice Caverly's decision will be handed down next Wednesday, September 10. Since the final arguments were delivered Caverly has gone into seclusion to peruse all the evidence in the case.

A VESTABURG MAN BREAKS DRY LAW

Walter Pawlak, of Vestaburg, charged with the manufacture and possession of liquor, was tried in Judge Brownson's court. He says that the liquor found in his home was the property of a boarder, and was made during his absence from home, and despite the protests of his wife. After he returned home he voluntarily gave himself up to the officers. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay costs, $100 fine and to serve one and a half months in jail.

Katarina Rocco, of Canonsburg, on her plea of guilty to selling liquor, was sentenced by Judge Brownson to pay a fine of $100 and to serve six months in jail. It was her second offense. The other time she was before court was following the sale of some wook alcohol, which caused the death of a man in Canonsburg. She is a widow about 60 years of age.

Sentence was passed late yesterday afternoon by Judge Erwin Cummins upon Henry Miller, Jr., Arthur Riddle and Henry Winters, the three Washington young men who entered pleas of guilty yesterday to charges of felonious breaking and entry in connection with the robbery of the W. A. Watson service station near Washington and the Ditzer service station at Claysville.

Winters and Riddle were each sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $1 and to a term in the workhouse of from one to two years. On account of the fact that he told the district attorney the truth after he was arrested and showed an inclination to make restitution as best he could, the court sentenced Miller to the county jail for a term of from six months to one year.

After making an investigation, the court discovered that Arthur Riddle had served a term in Morganza when a boy, and had served two years in the Ohio State penitentiary for attempted forgery.

The court warned the trio that they had not cheated the law; that he was simply lenient with them on account of their youth. The maximum for felonious breaking and entry is 15 years in the penitentiary, and Judge Cummins informed them that if he had sentenced them for each place they had broken into they would spend the greater part of their lives in the penitentiary.

Judge Cummins stated that yesterday he had been inclined to believe that this was a case for parole, but later investigations had revealed certain facts that made such a course impossible. He stated that the attitude of the confirmed criminal was to cover

WORK ON ROAD IS TIME BEING DELAYED

Members of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce, two of the road supervisors of Fallowfield township and the county commissioners met at Lover yesterday afternoon for the purpose of determining what could be done with a section of road leading from the Lover store to the top of the hill, a section some 1,200 or 1,500 feet long, that remains unimproved.

Before this meeting was held it was thought possible to have the contractor, who has just finished work on a section of highway leading to the top of the hill, complete this link and thus give an outlet to the National Pike at Centerville without going by the way of Beallsville. This is a township road and is to be built on the 50-50 basis. However, when the matter was taken up with the contractor it was found that he would not be able to touch the work as another contract demanded his removing all his road machinery at once in order to complete the labor before winter.

Numerous methods of improving this stretch were discussed, and while nothing definite was arrived at, it is the general impression that Fallowfield township, in conjunction with the commissioners will take up this work in the spring and possibly build a road that will connect with the Charleroi-Bentleyville road at the top of Colvin's hill and lead to the improved road at the top of the hill at Lover. It is certain that nothing can be done to improve this road this year.

"THE COVERED WAGON" IS SEASON'S BIGGEST PICTURE

Critic Adam Hull Shirk, in commenting on "The Covered Wagon," acknowledged to be the peer of any and the screen's most gigantic pictures, says:

"If it were possible to take behind the scenes the twenty million motion picture fans so that they might gain a slight conception of the tremendous task involved in making an epic picture such as "The Covered Wagon," it would disprove the unjustified claim that motion picture producers are satisfied with make-shifts and are careless of detail.

When Famous Players-Lasky Corporation determined upon the huge task of translating to the screen Emerson Hough's novel, "The Covered Wagon" as a Paramount picture, it

"The Covered Wagon," which comes to the Coyle Theatre next week for a week's picturization, will appeal particularly, to the romantically inclined and lovers of Nature's "Great Out-of-Doors."

There are doubtless a few men and a few women living in Charleroi and contiguous territory today who were residents of this or some other locality in the United States at the time which the films of "The Covered Wagon" typify. It may be these are people who witnessed in reality the scenes which are shown in the very great silver screen version; if so, this picture will particularly appeal to them. But to the average person the films are educational, in that they take the observer back to the time when the pioneers of other days were making history and forming government in the then wild, and untamed West. What they endured, their vicissitudes, and the dangers which they encountered are vividly depicted in "The Covered Wagon."

But the west has been reclaimed from the roving bands of Indians and outlaws, and it is to the hardy pioneers who forged ahead despite dangers to reach the land of the setting sun that the states to the west of the Mississippi river owe their foundations and superstructures of success and progress. While we view the picturization of the scenes of years ago as they relate to the west of the early days it is well to remember, with gratefulness, that those who drove "The Covered Wagon" did their part in the establishment and maintenance during their day of a land which now enjoys much of its prestige to their industry, their privations, their vicissitudes, and their foresight.

Cuddy Matched With Dundee in Hartford

Although Cuddy DeMarco was beaten in his last time out by Tommy O'Brien in New York last Thursday, the Charleroi flash is still in the lightweight elimination test, according to Manager James Mason.

Cuddy has been matched to meet Johnny Dundee, former featherweight and junior lightweight champion, in a 10-round bout on September 29, in Hartford, in the first test to show whether he belongs in the class which is seeking a shot at Benny Leonard's crown.

CARDS, CRIPPLED, ARE EASY PREY FOR THE PITTSBURGH TEAM

Capsizing the Cardinals to the overwhelming tune of 14 to 1 was as easy for the Pirates yesterday as cracking walnuts with a sledge hammer. Bill McKechnie's flag-chasers were dolled up in their slugging togs and they refused to slip their bludgeons into the scabbards until they had massacred three St. Louis moundsmen for 19 wallops, one of which was a home run hoist into the right field bleacher by Hazen Cuyler.

Wilbur Cooper held full sway in the turret for the Buccos and he let the visitors don with seven licks. He probably could have held a much tighter rein, but realizing it would not be necessary to waste his energy, the southpaw ace calmly lobbed the ball over the edges and outgeneraled the enemy batters. Long before the close of the first inning, Herman Bell had been hammered off the hill. Bobby Vines, who replaced him, failed to smother the opening bombardment, but he was permitted to stem the storm of swats until the eighth when he too was hoited to the showers and Southpaw Pete Fowler finished, but his tenders were badly mangled.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AT CHARLEROI TURN VEREIN

dren marching directly from their respective school buildings to the Turn Halls, where they regularly received their bodily training.

Turn Verein Training Not Militarism.

Some people, as a result of the ugly war days, are inclined to associate with Turn Verein teaching that of military training—that it has in it something of the old German Iron Fist. This is a great mistake. Physical Education is not military training. Military training is a training for war, and war always means death. But Physical Education is not a training for war, but for LIFE. People want to live and live more abundantly. The aim of physical exercises is that of developing a cheerful temperament, a perfectly sound physique, a clear and lively intellect that can see things as they are, a gentle will and above all a good conscience. These are some of the aims for which the Turn Verein schools stand today.

Classes Open to All Children or Adults.

It should be understood that the training given in the Turn Verein is not only for members belonging to the organization or for German people. All children regardless of nationality are welcome to join these classes. Special evening classes have been arranged for young ladies and young men. Also afternoon classes for school girls and boys. For full particulars address Prof. Oechele, Director of Physical Education, Charleroi Turn Verein. Class organization will begin Friday, September 5th.

Friday every week, from 7 to 8 p. m., ladies' class; 8 to 9:30 p. m., Active class.

Saturday every week, from 10 to 11 a. m., Girls from 7 to 10 years. 1 to 3 p. m., Boys, 3 to 4 p. m., Girls from 10 to 16 years.

Members and their children, free. Outsiders, $1.50 per 3 months for 1 child, $1.00 per 3 months if 2 or more children in one family. Payments to be made in advance. 77t2

PALACE HAS GREAT PICTURE LAST NIGHT

The Palace Theatre has a great picture in "The Unknown Purple" last night. Henry Walthall and the other sterling actors and actresses rose to supreme heights, while the vaudeville was the classiest we have witnessed at this popular playhouse for some time.

This evening the bill is changed, but we have Manager Harry Barnhart's assurance that it will be fully as meritorious as that of last evening and the preceding nights.

Highly Prized Medal

The medal of honor of the United States, given for bravery on the field of battle, was instituted by a law approved July 12, 1862. It is authorized by congress and awarded for particular deeds of distinguished bravery in action. Congress did, however, on March 26, 1776, order a gold medal struck for General Washington. Before this was made a silver medal was voted, struck and presented to Lieutenant Colonel Fleury for his gallantry in the assault upon Stony Point, July 15, 1779.

Business in the Desert

Bandits make huge profits from the caravan shipping business of Tripoli, the gateway to the Sahara desert. The bandits are not in the business—they exact huge tributes to insure the freight shipments against looting. Tripoli thrives despite the menace of the desert thieves, however, and all kinds of goods from rhino horns to ostrich plumes, are shipped on caravans from there.—Exchange.

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE SURPRISINGLY INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms, which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, frequently the sufferer never suspects the real cause of her trouble but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation you may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitation, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak will-power, melancholy or the "blues," disturbed digestion, loss of appetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration but eat more spinach and green vegetables and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron like Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Beware of substitutes. Look for the name "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.

CLASS, EXPERIENCE, WIN FOR GREB IN BOUT WITH SLATTERY

Class and experience won for Harry Greb last night at Buffalo over the exuberance of youth and the crudeness of a willing but crude youngster, who untill last night had been the idol of all New York state. For after two rounds in which he showed more stuff against Champion Harry Greb than most fighters do in 10, Jimmy Slattery, heretofore undefeated middleweight contender, bowed to the inevitable and lost a six-round decision.

Touted as Greb's superior when it came to speed and double-barreled punching, Slattery cut loose at the first bell in the first round, drove almost 15,000 home fans frantic as he battered Greb about, and then with the ambition of his life almost realized, that of killing down the other that he has been a favored son so far as decisions go, Young Jimmy blew wide open, slowed down under Greb's body attack in the third and wilted completely in the fourth, fifth and sixth, leaving the ring with his face covered with blood from the first cut he has suffered in the profession, and his body puffing under the concentrated attack which Greb cut loose once Slattery had shown signs of tiring.

"SINGLE WIVES" COMES TO THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

"Love is the whole thing in a woman's life,"—remarked an ex-professor of psychology, none other than Milton Sills, who is co-featured with Corinne Griffith in "Single Wives," a First National Production which comes to the Majestic theatre for four days, commencing next Monday.

"'Single Wives' is fortunate in its theme," continues Sills, "because it deals with a conflict fundamental in the human race—a conflict every man and woman faces when they embark on the matrimonial sea.

"The great difference between men and women lies in the fact that the former are the providers of the world and the latter are the propagators. In other words, men supply the means of self-preservation and women the means of perpetuating the race."

The balance of the "Single Wives" is of all-star caliber, including Kathlyn Williams, Lou Tellegen, Henry B. Walthall, Phyllis Haver, Phillips Smalley, Jere Austin and John Patrick. It was directed by George Archainbaud.

up when arrested, and only admit just what he was compelled to. The court said that Riddle and Winters had showed this disposition, but that Miller appeared different He had told the district attorney the truth and had tried to do what he could to make things right as far as he possibly could The court took this into consideration in passing sentence. Winters had removed some tires from their hiding place in the woods before his arrest and his father recovered them yesterday, turning them over to the officer.

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyocena, Wisconsin.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so I could scarcely go about my daily work I was in such misery. But after I began taking the second bottle I was feeling lots better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."—Mrs. Ida Gerbitz, Wyocena, Wis.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after child-birth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after child-birth It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

THE COVERED WAGON

was with a full knowledge of what was entailed. It meant weeks of preparation, painstaking research, gigantic expendditure and a responsibility almost unequalled in the history of the films.

Instead of acting as a deterrent, this only spurred them on to greater effort and determination to make this not only an entertaining drama of a vital period in American history, sufficiently recent to compel and hold the audiences of today, but likewise an historical document on celluloid, preserving fr all time the accurate spectacle of the great task of the pioneers who braved the rails across the continent in the face of untold hardships, dangers and privations.

James Cruze, producer of "The Old Homestead," was given the task of making the photo-drama. A staff of fifty or more experts was assigned to him, and immediately the preliminary work of research and location finding was entered upon. Nine states—California, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Oregon, New Mexico and Arizona—all must be represented. The Research Department was busy collecting data. State Historical Societies were appealed to and among those who answered were A. E. Sheldon, superintendent of the Nebraska State Historical Socieyy, who supplied valuable photographs and data about the Oregon trail in that state; Ennice G. Anderson, State Historian of Wyoming, gave advice and references regarding Fort Bridger and other historic forts in Wyoming. So it came from all quarters until the pile of material began to assume formidable proportions.

Then Mr. Cruze, himself, went to Nevada and Utah, which had been settled upon largely as the most promising spots whereon to film the scenes for the play. With Otto Meek owner of the Baker Ranch, of probably 200,000 acres, largest in Nevada if not in the world—located in the Snake Valley—arrangements were made whereby it might be used as the principal location. It contains a great lake which it was decided could be banked and an outlet formed to create a river which should provide the torrential stream which would later be forded by the wagon trains, every animal being obliged to swim as in the actual experiences of 1848-9.

Oxen had to be obtained to pull the wagons so yoke of steers were secured and broken to the yoke; the yokes and chains had to be made.

In addition 200 mules were required, of the army type—no small task in itself. A herd of 500 buffalo was utilized for the big hunt scenes

A thousand horses, 100 cowponies with equipment, several herds of ordinary cattle flanking the wagon trains were needed.

One thousand Indians, five hundred being mounted warriors, the rest made up of squaws, papooses, old men and so on, was another order.

Five hundred drivers for the ox teams—types of bearded, bronzed plainsmen; families of wives, children, etc., dogs, guides, wagon train captains, all were among the necessities.

Covers had to be made for several hundred wagons.

The country was untouched by modern equipages, there were no telephone or telegraph wires, no trains, no autos. In fact, much of the territory used never has been trodden by man; all of it is wild and primitive—in none of it has a camera ever clicked.

At the Coyle theatre for the entire week, beginning Monday, September 8th.
